of establishing a normal marital relationship with a mutual right of contortion and affection, no marriage existed between the parties.

4. Based upon the evidence at the Final Hearing, the Court further finds, that the Respondent converted sums for her own use and benefit, and to the exclusion of the Petitioner, from his bank account in the amount of $3,100.00.

The Court further finds, that the Petitioner gave Respondent a gold bracelet with approximately 60 diamonds having a value of $1,000.00, and an emerald necklace with a value of $600.00, both of which gifts were given to the Respondent with the understanding of a valid marriage, and upon the express and implied representation that Respondent had the present intention to marry Petitioner for love, companionship and mutual right of consortium, and other affections associated with the marriage.
